EXPERIENCE

During high school I gained a lot of knowledge about C++ because I graduated in computer science and I made different sites using HTML and CSS.

In the two years of university I continued to deepen my knowledge by studying new programming languages such as C, Python and Java and I also helped with the translation of an application so that it can be available in Romanian.

I realized there is still much more to know and I'm always looking for ways to improve myself and my knowledge hoping oneday I can give it back and share it with anyone willing to learn.
